

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer for a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLARICE MORIN, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided.

GOSSIP FROM STATE HOUSE

The agriculture college at Lincoln has ready for distribution a bulletin for bird study, including resident birds, winter residents, early spring migratory arrivals, etc.

The board of control will expend probably only about $100,000 for new buildings to be erected this year and for other permanent improvements at various state institutions.

According to a report from the office of the state board of equalization, six railroads in Nebraska own over 100,000 acres of land in the state, in use by them for right-of-way purposes.

The stock yards interests of South Omaha offer $750 to members of the Nebraska boys' corn club, to be used to pay expenses for attending a corn club congress to be held at the college of agriculture.

In a suit from Sarpy county, involving the taxing of funds in a fraternal organization, the supreme court finds that a beneficiary society is not exempt from taxation on the money it loans for profits.

In the long continued litigation regarding the Capital National bank failure at Lincoln in 1893, the United States supreme court has decided that directors must pay. The amount involved is about $70,000.

Lieutenant Joe Lillie of Omaha, who is on the regimental staff, has been recommended to succeed Captain H. F. Kramer of Lincoln, inspector of small arms practice for the Fifth regiment, who recently resigned.

State Treasurer Hall would recommend the apportionment of temporary school funds for support of public schools whenever the fund reached $100,000—which would mean eight apportionments instead of two each year, as at present.

Collections in the auto license department of the secretary of state's office show an enormous increase for March over those of a year ago, and on the basis established, it is thought there will be nearly 80,000 licenses issued this season.

Henry Ford's name is on the Nebraska primary ballot to stay as a republican candidate for president. The time for withdrawals ended at midnight Monday and no request came from him to Secretary of State Pool to have his name left off.

Secretary O. E. Barnecker of the state board of assessment is requiring county assessors to make a special report on the number of automobiles assessed April 1. Saunders county, the first to report, assessed 1,126 automobiles last year and 1,629 this year, an increase of 503 in one year.

The conception of the late Ralph Northrup of Omaha, brilliant student journalist of the state university, to embody Coronado's vision in a pageant dedicated to his home city, was not in vain. Announcement has been made by Prof. H. B. Alexander of the state university that young Northrup's conception still lives and that the theme for the second part of the pageant to be held at Lincoln June 5 and 6 will be based upon it.

The monthly report of Warden Fenton of the state penitentiary says 215 convicts, of whom two are women, are out on parole, furlough or vacation. The board of control explains that the word "vacation" does not apply to convicts, that no prisoners at the penitentiary are allowed spring or summer vacations. The printed blank on which the warden made his report is a blank intended for use at fifteen different institutions, and the word "vacation" does not apply to convicts.

When the Rock Island railroad furnished to William Atchison at Alvo two single deck cars for sheep instead of one double deck car which he had ordered, it should have charged him the rate specified in its tariff for a double deck car, with a minimum weight of 22,000 pounds. In assessing a higher rate and collecting for 24,000 pounds the road exacted an excessive amount and should refund to Atchison the sum of $7.38 as overcharge, the railway commission finds.

In an effort to further relieve the car shortage in Nebraska the state railway commission has increased demurrage rates to correspond with the interstate rates fixed by the interstate commerce commission. The new rates will remain in effect until June 15 when the former rates will be resumed. The demurrage rate has been $1 per car per day after a forty-eight hour free period. The new rate is $1 per car for each of the first three days after the forty-eight hour period and there after is $2 a day.

As president of the league to enforce peace, William H. Taft has sent letters to Governor John H. Morehead and Mayor C. W. Bryan, urging them to represent the state and city at the first annual assemblage of the league at Washington May 26 and 27. Mr. Taft also asks them to appoint delegates to the conference, in addition to coming themselves. The league professes to have no connection with the preparedness campaign or its opponents, but to be "an earnest effort of practical business men to bring about peace, after the close of the European war."

DRY FORCES WIN OVER WETS IN LOCAL OPTION ELECTIONS.

MANY CITIES ABOLISH SALOONS

Most of Changes Made By Small Majorities.—North Platte Dry for First Time in Town's History.

A large number of Nebraska cities voted on the wet and dry issue in the election April 5. It was by far one of the fiercest contests in the state's history. North Platte went dry for the first time in the history of the city by a majority of 90 votes. Fairbury, in Jefferson county, went dry by a majority of 100 votes, changing over from the wet column.

Of the 136 towns reporting five changes were recorded from dry to wet and eighteen changes from wet to dry.

The wet forces won among other towns Falls City, DeWitt, Newcastle, Hildreth, Tilden and St. Paul, which previously had been dry, while the dry forces have a big string of large cities of Nebraska hanging to their belt. Among these are North Platte, Fairbury, Wahoo, Sutton, Orleans, Valentine, Hebron, Superior, McCook, Beatrice, Bloomington, Sidney, Rushville.

A feature of the contests in many places was that the vote was by an extremely narrow margin, one and two votes often settling the policy of a town for a whole year.

Prohibition carried at Beatrice after one of the heaviest votes in the history of the city had been polled, the dries winning by a majority of 14.

After one of the most strenuous battles in the history of Fairbury between the wet and dry factions, that city reversed its policy and switched to the dry column by an estimated plurality of 100 votes. One vote decided the issue at Sidney in favor of the dries.

Following is a list of towns that voted on the saloon license issue:

Dry—Allen, Auburn, Albion, Alma, Ashland, Arapahoe, Ainsworth, Boelus, Belgrade, Blair, Bertrand, Bridgeport, Benkelman, Bloomington, Beatrice, Culbertson, Cozad, Curtis, Clarks, Cotesfield, Clay Center, David City, Dannebrog, Dawson, Fairbury, Fullerton, Friend, Gordon, Guide Rock, Gothenburg, Geneva, Genoa, Gibbon, Harvard, Humboldt, Hebron, Juniata, Kenesaw, Lexington, Lyons, Louisville, Mitchell, Milford, McCook, Minden, Newman Grove, North Bend, North Platte, Orleans, Oxford, Ogallala, Overton, Odell, Red Cloud, Springfield, Sargent, Sutton, Shickley, Sumner, Stockville, Superior, Stella, Sidney, Tecumseh, Tekamah, Upland, Union, Valentine, Verden, Valley, Wayne, Wahoo, Wymore, York.

Wet—Amherst, Columbus, Brady Island, Barnston, Battle Creek, Bancroft, Benson, Bennington, Brunning, Callaway, Crete, Cook, De Witt, Elba, Elkhorn, Farwell, Falls City, Florence, Grafton, Greeley Center, Fremont, Grand Island, Herman, Hartington, Hastings, Hildreth, Hooper, Heartwell, Leigh, Madison, Milligan, Niobrara, Neligh, Newcastle, Oconto, Oshkosh, Papillion, Pender, Plattsmouth, Pilger, Pickrell, Prosser, Ravenna, Scotia, Silver Creek, Schuyler, Shelton, St. Paul, Stapleton, Sterling, Seward, Table Rock, Tilden, Waterloo, West Point, Wilber, Wisner, Wood River.

Sunday baseball won at the following towns: Silver Creek, Farnam and Eustis.

A $50,000 bond issue for a new high school building carried at Plattsmouth. The issuance of $40,000 interest paying bonds carried at Fremont, 1,000 to 432.

Paving Wins at Kearney. Kearney.—The progressive forces, standing for paving and other civic improvements, won at Kearney. There was a light vote cast. The following villages in the territory contiguous to Kearney voted wet: Shelton, Stapleton, Oconto, Brady Island, Wood River, Callaway and Amherst. The pool halls carried at Shelton. The dries won at Sumner, Lexington and Gibbon. At Miller the village voted in favor of the $10,000 improvement bonds for the waterworks.

To Improve Lincoln Highway. Grand Island.—Advocates for the expenditure by the city of $1,500 for surfacing more of the Lincoln highway immediately west of the city and for giving financial support for the band to the extent of $2,500, both carried.

Manager Plan Defeated. Beatrice.—The manager plan received a decided defeat at the polls, a two to one vote being cast against the proposition.

Puzzle at Neligh. Neligh.—The referendum vote on the wet and dry question resulted in a tie. The new council is said to stand tied on the license question, and the newly elected mayor, T. C. Kirk, is supposed to be in favor of the wets.

Brown County Goes Dry. Ainsworth.—Ainsworth voted dry by 22 majority. This is its eighth dry year. Long Pine voted dry by 9 majority. This makes Brown county entirely dry for the first time in its history.

HOMETOWN HELPS

LOOK TO THE VACANT LOT

A Little Cleaning Up of the Space Now Will Result in Profit in the Future.

Owners of unimproved property in this city who wish to sell it should take heed of a suggestion that comes from Minneapolis, where the matter has been under practical consideration. This is that any lot of ground offered for sale has a better chance of finding a market if it is kept in attractive order than if neglected and allowed to present an unkempt, unattractive appearance. Of course, as a mere building site, it makes no difference to a prospective purchaser whether a lot is neatly tufted or is a veritable dump laden with trash. Building operations are not deterred by refuse. But there is something psychological in the appeal of a well-kept vacant lot that gives it a "pulling power" over a trash-covered, weed-grown, unsightly place.

The cumulative effect of well-tended vacant properties reaching to a standard of orderliness throughout the city is unmistakable. Every real estate owner with property of this character to sell is interested in attracting the attention of buyers from outside. Such buyers are more sure drawn to a city that presents no unlovely aspects than to one that is peppered with eyesores.

The cost of keeping a vacant lot in order is slight and it should be reckoned by the owner as part of the overhead charge, along with the interest. It has been suggested that this cost may be added to the price of the property when it is sold. However it is borne, whether by the owner or the ultimate purchaser, it is a good investment. It makes for quicker sales and meanwhile for a more attractive city, which in itself is an asset shared by every owner of property.

This is the season to consider this question. Already the preparations for park work are under way. The ground in the public reservations is being raked, trash is being hauled away, and in a few weeks the city will be blossoming. Every owner of a vacant lot should consider his bit of ground as part of the city's park system and put it in order just as carefully as the tree-grown spaces under the care of the government are groomed for the season. The house-holders are expected to keep their front parkings and lawns up to a certain standard of neatness, and surely those who own land on which there are no improvements should be under the same obligation. — Washington Star.

Have a Garden.

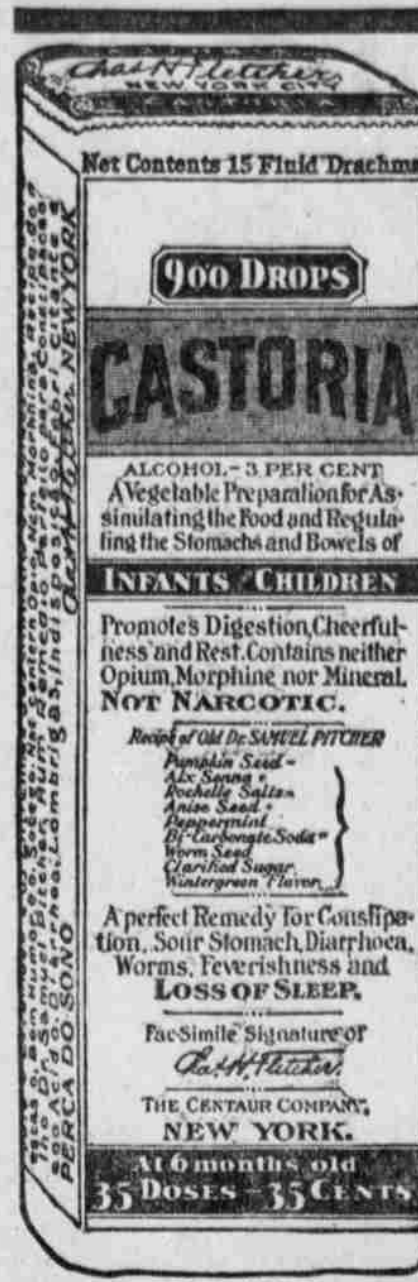

Begin now to think of that little garden in the back yard, everybody who has a back yard. Such a modest enterprise has much to do to restore the harmony of life. If you don't get a radish, a tomato, a bean or a mess of peas, you will get something greater—pure air, sunshine, exercise and companionship with nature, which are a richer crop than all the truck in the garden. It is a great thing to watch things grow. They make a man grow, too; add health and strength to every part of his body; give him a clean conscience; make him love his wife and enjoy her vicariously. Tending a little garden makes a good citizen out of a man; gives him better thoughts; makes him kinder to his neighbors, and gives a gentler accent to his voice. And then, if he should raise anything in the garden, how happy he is to gather it and take it into the kitchen and lay it on the table, saying to his wife: "These are some of our own raising; ain't they fine?" That's life—grander than going to church in an automobile.—Ohio State Journal.

Value of Flower Shows.

Preparations are already under way for flower shows, and it is pertinent to ask, "What is the permanent value to those who attend?" Mere attractions will not permanently endure with any considerable measure of success. They must educate as well. In order to interest you must instruct. All love best what they know most about. The more one is instructed in horticulture the greater will be his appreciation of plants and flowers. Every exhibit should be a bureau of information regarding fundamental knowledge. Every attendant should be a mine of information regarding details. A feast for the eyes will not alone attract the best attendance, but a feast of the mind as well surely will.

Decoration of the Home.

It is not "a matter of taste" when we accept for our home's decoration those forms of beauty which we do not sympathetically understand; it is a matter of intellectual laziness. We take what is smart for the moment without a question of its fitness and adaptability for our individual needs, and in so doing we lose that greater delight, which is the soul of art and which is our only thorough sincere study and search of the decorative fundamentals upon which the artists and lovers of the beautiful have built.—House and Garden.
